

AT THE CAPITOL.

LIQUOR IN THE SENATE AND IN THE SENATORS.

MR. PLUMB'S RESOLUTION DISCUSSED.

Measures, Lansburgh's Property Except from the Operation of the Alien Land Act—Other Proceedings.

Contrary to general expectation the Quay resolution was not taken up in the Senate during the morning hour, and at 11 o'clock the Senate resumed consideration of the Tariff bill.

It required a call of the House to obtain a quorum this morning, so that a half hour.

Mr. Henderson of Illinois, chairman of the Committee on Rivers and Harbors, reported the River and Harbor bill, asking a non-concurrence in all the Senate amendments, and agreeing to the conference with the House.

Mr. Kent made the point of order that the amendments must first be considered in Committee of the Whole.

Mr. Henderson then withdrew the report, stating he would make it tomorrow morning after a full report.

In the morning hour Mr. Buchanan again called up the bill for the adjustment of the accounts of laborers, workmen and mechanics under the eight-hour law.

He made a strong argument in favor of the bill, as did Mr. Kent. Mr. Kent opposed it.

Pending the discussion the morning hour expired, and the Senator Compound Land bill was taken up.

To His Honor, the Governor.

When the Hon. J. H. Walker of Massachusetts made his silver speech in his shirt sleeves there was a good deal of indignation on the part of his colleagues, and Speaker Reed almost took a hand and denounced the Bay State statesman for his action. A man in his shirt sleeves is not such an unusual sight in the House nowadays. In fact, it is the daily custom of a House member to appear in the members' gallery, Republican side, clad in a dark pair of trousers and a woolen shirt, and is evidently showing off his shape.

The Lansburgh Exempt.

Mr. Hoar, from the Judiciary Committee, this morning reported a bill exempting the real estate owned by James and Julius Lansburgh from the operation of the Alien Land act. After explanation it passed.

LIQUOR IN THE SENATE.

PLUMB'S RESOLUTION DISCUSSED BUT NOT ACTED ON THIS MORNING.

Mr. Plumb's resolution to prevent the sale of spirituous, vinous, and malt liquors in the Senate wing of the Capitol was discussed in the Senate this morning. The pending questions were on Mr. Blair's amendment to add the words "and drinking" to Mr. Butler's amendment directing a daily search for liquors of committee rooms. This is regarded as a direct hit at Senator Edmunds.

Mr. Edmunds suggested, jokingly, the extension of the amendment to direct the search of Senators' desks.

Mr. Butler said he had no objection. But Mr. Plumb had. He thought the amendment was calculated to belittle his resolution, which he had offered seriously and in reference to public opinion. He did not believe there was any legislative body in the world (certainly not in the United States) that permitted liquors to be sold publicly in the building where it held its sittings.

Mr. Butler thought the existing rules were sufficient. He condemned the apocryphal outbreak of virtuous indignation in the Senate Chamber. He believed there was as much abstinence in the Senate as in any similar body in the world.

Mr. Blair thought that if there was to be reform in the Senate wing of the Capitol, it should be extended to the Senators and committee rooms. That (the continued) would prevent Senators from becoming so befuddled as to interfere with the consideration of the Elections bill. King Alcohol would not then be interfering in debate and bringing about the perpetual of debate about which all complained.

This is the first intimation Mr. Blair has given the public that he was "how come you so" when he spoke for many days on his Education bill.

Mr. Hoar agreed with Mr. Butler. The matter then, on Mr. Plumb's suggestion, went over until tomorrow.

AN EXCITING RUNAWAY.

A Horse Wrenched Things Pretty Generally Before He Was Caught.

There was an exciting runaway this afternoon at 2 o'clock. One of Barbour & Hamilton's horses ran away from in front of the store, and wrecked things generally. In front of the postoffice C. F. Currier's delivery wagon was stopped, in which was Mr. Currier's young daughter. The wagon was completely demolished, but the girl escaped serious injury.

The runaway horse turned down Fifth street, at the corner of Pennsylvania avenue, run down Mrs. McKee's guest, the National Hotel, and ran on Frank McKee's daughter sustained a severe shock, and the boy was carried to Tillman's drug store where he was attended by Dr. Howe.

SEIZED HUNTERS OF WAR.

Arbitrary Conduct by Guatemalan Officers Toward a Steamer.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 21.—The Steamship Company's service, which was recently delayed by the Guatemalans, who seized a consignment of arms carried by her, arrived here yesterday. Her officers say that the arms consisted of twenty-five cases of Winchester rifles and twenty-five cases of cartridges consigned to Anconito, Salvador. At San Jose the steamer was boarded by the Guatemalan authorities who demanded the war munitions. A compromise was effected by which the arms were to be transferred to a lighter to the steamer City of Sydney and returned to San Francisco. When, however, the arms had been placed on board the lighter a Guatemalan crew came off in a boat and seized both lighter and steamer. When the officers of the City of Sydney protested against this proceeding the Guatemalans simply laughed at them.

FAILED TO MAKE A CASE.

Sergeant Dunnigan Accused of Trying to Get a Lieutenant.

Daniel Mahoney, who keeps a grocery store at the corner of First and Pierce streets, had his place raided by Sergeant Dunnigan and a number of officers on Sunday afternoon, and in the Police Court to-day he was charged with keeping a Sunday bar. He was drinking beer with a number of friends in the dining room of his house.

Dan E. Cahill represented the defendant, and questioned Sergeant Dunnigan's motive in making the raid, which aggravated the latter not a little. Mr. Cahill intimated that Mr. Dunnigan was a "buddy" of the defendant's, and during his absence in Boston, in summing up the case Judge Mills said that no case had been proven and dismissed the case.

MONEY FOR ENUMERATORS.

The Census Office Preparing Vouchers for 15,000 Men.

The finance division of the Census Office is busy at work examining the accounts of the enumerators, which have been received and upon which their pay will be based. These examinations are progressing at the rate of 500 a day, and already 17,000 accounts have been examined, but there are some 45,000 of them in all, so that it will require some weeks before the last voucher can be sent away.

Mr. Hunt, the chief of the division, said yesterday, "We have 1,700 men employed on this work in one capacity or another, and are pushing it to completion as rapidly as possible. The only enumerators who have been paid up to the present time are those who were employed in New York city."

FROM ACROSS THE SEA.

AN AFRICAN MONARCH WHO CONTEMPLATES FIGHTING ENGLAND.

The Story of William Tell Will Not Be Taught Longer in Swiss Schools.

Other Gossip.

LONDON, Aug. 21.—South African notices represent that Lobengula, the King of Matabeleland, is very much irritated with the course of the British Company, which he has recently admitted to certain privileges in his dominions, and that his people are ripe for war. Lobengula is the most powerful monarch in South Africa, and is able to muster an army of about 10,000 well-trained fighting men. He keeps a bodyguard of 4,000 men. The warriors are more anxious for war than the king, who understands something of the extent of British power, and is slow to enter upon a conflict. Should Lobengula go to war against the colonists, it would be a most serious affair than the struggle with the Zulus.

The Property Defense League, formed of members of the English nobility and land-holding gentry, has issued a circular calling upon all who are interested in defending the rights of property to join the league, and denouncing in stirring language the socialistic tendencies of legislation in Britain.

The authorities of the Swiss canton of Schvay have issued positive orders prohibiting the oft-told and generally accepted narrative of William Tell, from being taught in the public schools as part of Swiss history. DETROIT, Mich., Aug. 21.—Fred J. Crimmins, assistant city editor of the Evening Star, was fatally shot by Anthony Manili, an Italian fruit-vender, at the corner of Randolph and Croghan streets last evening. The Italian accused Crimmins of taking one more plum than he was paid for. Crimmins laughingly denied the imputation, when the Italian, without warning, placed a revolver within four inches of Crimmins' left groin and fired. Crimmins was taken to the hospital, and at a late hour last night was still alive, but has no chance of recovery. The Italian was arrested.
